John Hammell was arrested on Tues day by officer Foster, on complaint of Mrs. aldersleeve, who accused him of being drank and disorderly and of using abusive anguage toward her mother. Justice Hall committed him to ten days in jail. To the Taxpayers of Watsessing and Bloom-

I think it is not right for the railroad ompany to give an order to their hands clean'the ditch from the signal house o the woodshed belonging to the Watsesing depot master. From that point there s no ditch and the water is thrown into he field on the right side of the road. I think it was the duty of the company to have carried their water through a box cross the road, thence along the track, and let the water run into the Bloomfield pond. From Orange street to Earler treet all the water comes together just like a small sea, because there is no outlet through the street. Cesspools and privy vaults are overflowed by this water, creating quite a stench. There ought to be an outlet 2 feet wide and 3 feet high, with ement walls and the top covered over with flags. All the owners of property on the other side should open the ditch up Bloomfield avenue. It is the duty the township committee to see to such natters. They made a new road and did not leave any outlet either.

Franklin District. Franklin District schools were closed

Labor Day.

Local politics is an important topic at e Prospect Hose House. Joe Lee's back stoop presented the appearance of a fish stand, after Joe Elher's fishing excursion. Through the personal efforts of Counlman Wilson, a half-day holiday on Labor. Day was secured for the men employed on the sewer.

The following is from the Orange Journil. Franklin District people who read it carefully and ponder over it will realize that it expresses a great deal: "Mr. Musson Vanness is building two new houses, Mr. J. W. Butterworth is-building another. The anticipation of Franklin Park evidently has its good effect in developing property in its vicinity."

-In one of the Oranges, not long since the writer was attracted by a pair of cat skins nailed against the side of a German's house. One was jet black and the other a maltese, both of large size. Upon inpuring it was learned that they were to sold and that the meat had been consumed by a family near by. The owner of the cat skins said it was not at all unusual for the poorer people to eat cat and dog meat. So says the Sunday Call.

-A disposition manifested by some individuals to regard the Board of Health as an unauthorized body and to treat its notices with contempt, has led to the passage of the following resolution: "The secretary of the Board of Health is hereby instructed to request the Justice that in cases when judgment is rendered in favor of the Board an execution be issued within five days, or that the reason for delay be communicated to the Board in writing."

The East Orange Health Board met on Monday night. The Seabury & Johnson matter took up a large part of the time. A letter from the F. D. J. A. was read, upproving the course pursued by the Board, in the matter. A petition signed y several citizens was presented, requestthat the factory be allowed the priviusing the brook until the complethe of the sewer. Chairman Thompson expressed himself as very much puzzled to understand just what the people in Franklin District wanted. Assessor Cowdry manifested deep interest in regard to certain statements made by the factory. If Senbury & Johnson have a right to run soapsuds in the brook, everybody else hight to have the same privilege, was what Councilman Wilson thought about the matter. Col. Riley appeared to take a sleep interest in the matter. Dr. Chamber said he had examined the brook water and could not discover any stench. Councilman Wilson grew quite oratorical. "Spots on the leopard" was worth an applause. Assessor Cowdry thought that the best thing to do was to let the matter stand over without action. This was concurred in by all. Chairman Thompson said that the company were to be allowed to use the sewer under certain conditions with which they intended to comply. Councilman Wilson stated that to give his opinion as to why a counter petition was signed, was a delicate thing to do.

Vicinity of Bloomfield.

The union of the Oranges is often a topic of conversation among those who take a lively interest in local affairs. Itis regarded as one of possibilities of the not far away future. At the present time a great many not well posted in local geograpy are under the impression that Orauge, East Orange, Orange Valley, West Orange and South Orange are simply, different ; arts of one municipality. This an error. With the exception of the Valley these are all separate towns each posessing its own governing board. It is said that there is at present a movement on foot to annex West Orange to Orange.

This is probably a part of the plans of the syndicate who have recently made such extensive purchases of real estate in West WATSESSING AND FRANKLIN DIS-Orange. Fire, water, and police department services can better be secured by annexation and their acquirment will be a great inducement to any contemplating the purchasing of villa sites.

> Ex-Prisoners of War Association. Twenty-five ex-prisoners of war, resi dents of New Jersey, met at the Continental Hotel, Newark, Tuesday afternoon and organized the ex-Prisoners of War Association by the election of the following officers : President, Gen E. L. Hayes, Bloomfield; Vice-President. J. M. Drake, Elizabeth; Recording S e'y, Capt. Joseph A. Peloubet, Bloomfield; Corresponding Secretary, Major S. M. Riker, Englewood; Treasurer, A. Z. Boyd, Tenafly;

Executive Committee, Gen. Hayes, Joseph A. Peloubet, John E. Brundage, C. F. Hopkins and Richard Cooper; Chaplain, Samuel Applegate; Standard-Bearers, M. M. Stage and Jacob Van Winkle. Gen. Hayes was elected a delegate to the convention at Chicago on Sept. 23, and C. F; Hopkins alternate. A committee to enroll new members was appointed, and the association adjourned after agreeing to meet in Trenton the first Tuesday in September next year.

Essex Board of Freeholders.

Essex County Freeholders will adopt a resolution protesting against being held responsible for any damage that may ensue from the failure to build a new bridge at north Belleville.

Under the new law governing the electing of freeholders, townships entitled to members of the board must elect one annually. This applies to Bloomfield. At a meeting of the Board previous to the time of holding election it will be decided which member shall hold over.

An old resident of Bloomfield can t understand how it is that all matters pertaining to roads, bridges and culverts must be submitted to civil engineers. He longs for a return of the good old days when road engineering consisted simply in tying a white rag to a black dog's tail, and following its trail.

County Engineer James Owen was in Bloomfield the other day on business connected with culverts. He inspected the Broad street culvert.

Fire Department.

It is the intention of the chief of the fire department to detail a number of firemen to do duty at Library Hall whenever any entertainments are carried on there."

-A fire patrol in command of assistant foreman 1. E. Hayes of Essex Truck, was on duty at Library Hall on Wednesday night during the performance of Uncle Tom's Cabin. .

-R. Gildersleeve from Active Company Wm. Baldwin, Phoenix, and E. Ramsch constituted the patrol. A fire extinguisher was in readiness in case of fire.

-At the meeting of the town committee an appropriation was made to defray the expenses of sending a representative to the National Convention of Firemen. -The town clerk has been instructed to notify the East Orange Water Company to place a hydrant on Willow street near Active Hose Company's building, -The members of Phœnix Hose have recently placed a new gas lamp in front of -A bill of 16.24 for gas burned in Es sex Truck House was presented and ordered paid at the last town committee -A question having arose about the exemption of firemen from taxation, the town clerk was instructed to submit the matter to town counsel, also to notify the foremen of the different companies to sub-
